INFORMED CONSENT FOR ENDOSCOPIC PROCEDURES

Gastrointestinal endoscopy is the direct visualization of the digestive tract with a flexible, lighted endoscope. It is usually done under sedation. During your procedure, the lining of the digestive tract will be thoroughly inspected and possibly photographed. If an abnormality is seen or suspected, a small portion of the tissue (biopsy) may be removed. Small growths (polyps), if seen, may be removed. These specimens are sent to a pathologist who determines if abnormal cells are present.

UPPER GI ENDOSCOPY - sometimes called EGD (esophagogastroduodenoscopy), is a visual examination of the upper intestinal tract using a lighted, flexible, fiberoptic or video endoscope. The upper gastrointestinal tract begins with the mouth and continues with the esophagus (food pipe) which carries food to the stomach.

COLONOSCOPY - is advised for all average-risk patients, age 50 and older, as a method of colon cancer screening. The procedure is performed using a colonoscope, a long flexible tube that permits visualization of the lining of the large bowel utilizing a video monitor. The instrument is inserted via the rectum and guided through the length of the colon. If the doctor sees a suspicious area, a biopsy can be done to make a diagnosis. "Colonoscopy is considered the standard of care for colorectal cancer screening and surveillance. Other alternatives, including sigmoidoscopy, barium enema and fecal occult blood test (FOBT) are available but may not be accurate. If you wish to consider alternatives, please discuss these with your gastroenterologist."

FLEXIBLE SIGMOIDOSCOPY – lets your doctor examine the lining of the rectum and a portion of the colon (large intestine) by inserting a flexible tube about the thickness of your finger into the anus and slowly advancing it into the rectum and lower part of the colon.

DILATION – Esophageal dilation is a procedure that allows your doctor to dilate, or stretch, a narrowed area of your esophagus (swallowing tube). Doctors can use various techniques for this procedure. Your doctor might perform the procedure as part of a sedated endoscopy. Alternatively, your doctor might apply a local anesthetic spray to the back of your throat and then pass a weighted dilator through your mouth and into your esophagus.

Gastrointestinal endoscopy is a very low risk procedure though the complications listed below may occur. Your doctor will discuss the possibility of complications with you, if you desire. YOU MUST ASK YOUR DOCTOR IF YOU HAVE ANY UNANSWERED QUESTIONS ABOUT THE PROCEDURE.

1. BLEEDING: Bleeding, if it occurs, is usually a complication of biopsy, polypectomy or dilation. Management of this complication may consist only of careful observation. Blood transfusions and surgery are rarely needed.
2. PERFORATION: Passage of the endoscope may result in an injury or tear to the gastrointestinal tract wall or an internal organ such as the spleen, with possible leakage of gastrointestinal contents in the body cavity. If this occurs, surgery may be required.
3. MEDICATION PHLEBITIS: Medications used for sedation may irritate the vein in which they are injected. This may cause a red, painful swelling of the vein and surrounding tissue. The area could become infected. Discomfort in the area may persist for several weeks to several months.
4. OTHER RISKS: These include drug reactions, and complications from other diseases you may already have. Although endoscopy is a fairly thorough examination of the gastrointestinal tract, it is not 100% accurate in diagnosis. Rarely, a failure of diagnosis or a misdiagnosis may result. Serious or fatal complications from endoscopy are extremely rare. You must inform your physician of all your allergies and medical conditions.

Alternatives to Gastrointestinal Endoscopy

Other diagnostic or therapeutic procedures, such as medication treatment, x-ray, and surgery may be available.

If any unforeseen condition arises during this procedure calling for (in my doctor's judgment) additional procedures, treatments, or surgeries, I authorize whatever is deemed advisable. I acknowledge that the practice of medicine and surgery is not an exact science and that no guarantees have been made to me concerning the result of this procedure.

I am aware that in an event of a life-threatening emergency, Southwest Endoscopy personnel will perform any necessary emergency procedures and transfer me to an acute care facility.

I consent to the administration of moderate sedation as may be considered appropriate by my doctor. If sedation is used, I agree not to drive, operate machinery, make critical decisions, sign legal documents, or consume alcohol or recreational drugs for 24 hours following my procedure.

I consent to the taking of any photographs made during my procedure for the purpose of treatment and medical education.

SOUTHWEST ENDOSCOPY POLICY ON ADVANCE DIRECTIVES

Southwest Endoscopy, Ltd. is a limited purpose, single specialty ASC dedicated to the study and treatment of gastrointestinal diseases and disorders. Southwest Endoscopy will honor Advance Directives to the extent allowed by our policies approved by the Governing Body. If a patient has an Advance Directive and does NOT wish to be resuscitated, the patient will not be scheduled at Southwest Endoscopy.

The Governing Body has reviewed and approved the following standard regarding the implementation of Advance Directives in the facility. In the event a life threatening emergency occurs (i.e. respiratory or cardiac arrest), Southwest Endoscopy will implement the following on all patients:

- Perform emergency procedures, as necessary, to stabilize the patient.
- Transfer the patient to an acute healthcare facility where the attending physician and family can make an informed decision regarding the patient's well-being.

INFORMATION ON ADVANCE DIRECTIVES

There may be a time in your life when you are unable to make healthcare choices for yourself. Some serious decisions that people are often called upon to make include treatment choices, artificial life support, and quality of life. You have a choice about medical interventions such as ventilators, CPR, drugs to sustain blood pressure, antibiotics, artificial nutrition (food) and hydration (water).

There are two legal documents that allow you to express your wishes about healthcare decisions. These documents allow you to determine your decision about certain medical treatments and procedures in advance of illness or life-threatening circumstances. Advance Healthcare Directives consist of a Living Will and a Power of Attorney for Healthcare. You may complete either or both of these documents.

Living Wills

A Living Will allows you to decide for yourself how you would address specific end-of-life decisions. There are three choices that the Living Will provides:

- In the case of an incurable and irreversible condition that will result in your death within a relatively short time.
- You become unconscious and, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, will not regain consciousness.
- The likely risks and burdens of treatment would outweigh the expected benefits.

This choice also allows you to determine if you want to receive artificial food and water based on the conditions listed above. Unless you were to specifically object, this choice would also provide treatment to ease any pain and discomfort.

The second choice is to prolong your life as long as possible within the limits of generally accepted healthcare practices.

The third choice is not to make a specific choice yourself but to allow a person of your choice (Power of Attorney for Healthcare Decisions) to make end-of-life decisions for you.

Power of Attorney or Surrogate for Healthcare

A Power of Attorney for Healthcare allows you to choose a person to make healthcare decisions for you should you become incapacitated. You can limit the type of decisions that your agent may make for you if you choose to do so. This document provides a place for you to list alternative agents should your original agent be unavailable or unable to act. Your agent's authority becomes effective when your primary physician and one other qualified healthcare professional determine that you are unable to make your own healthcare decisions.

You can also use this form to designate a person to make your current healthcare decisions even though you are completely capable of making those decisions for yourself. Some persons prefer not to be involved in the decision-making process of their healthcare at any stage and designate another person to make current and future decisions for them by completing a Power of Attorney or Surrogate for Healthcare.

YOU DO NOT HAVE TO SIGN ANY FORM IF YOU CHOOSE NOT TO DO SO.

If you do not sign a form or tell your doctor about whom you want to make your healthcare decisions (or if someone you identify is not reasonably available), a family member who is reasonably available may act. Family members are selected to act in your behalf in descending order: Spouse, significant other, adult-child, parent, adult brother or sister, grandparent, close friend.

Advance Directives (Living Will and Power of Attorney for Healthcare) allow you to make your own choices about medical decisions. Making decisions in advance will provide direction and perhaps comfort to family members or agents who may make significant choices on your behalf.
